

1994 ITAA Fellow – Judy Zaccagnini Flynn

Judy Zaccagnini Flynn in 1994 is Professor and Program Coordinator, Clothing and Textiles, Framingham State College. Judy has been an exemplary leader and team player in the transition from ACPTC to ITAA and in the growth and development of ITAA. She has served as Vice President for Operations, Development Committee Chair, National Futures Committee, and President of Eastern Region of ACPTC. She as an early advocate of a refereed journal to be published by the association and has served as member of the CTRJ editorial board and as a reviewer. She was instrumental in starting the ACPTC-ER Newsletter which has evolved into the ITAA Newsletter. Judy is a forward, creative thinker with the energy and capability to organize and pay attention to details in planning and implementing program and organization changes. Her invaluable understanding of the association's history contributes to the ongoing operations of ITAA. Her time, talent, and creativity have been essential components in the growth and development of ITAA.

She is co-author with Irene Foster of Research Methods for the Fashion Industry and is professor Emerita Fashion Design and Retailing after 37 years at Framingham State University.