

1998 ITAA Fellow – Jane Lamb

Jane M. Lamb, University of Delaware, is considered a leading expert in the field of clothing for people with special needs and has earned an international reputation for her work in that area. She has been one of the most visible members of ITAA, promoting organization goals to those outside the field. Jane has held many positions in ITAA and is a consistent contributor to professional journals and at conferences. Jane is especially recognized as an inspirational and supportive educator who is lauded by her colleagues for her commitment to provide her students with the best possible preparation for their future roles in the textile and apparel industry. As one colleague stated, “A person’s most lasting contribution to any field would be to encourage and inspire a new generation of professionals....Jane’s teaching is characterized by innovative strategies, integration of theory and practice, and a deep desire to actively involve her students in the learning process.”
