

Extraordinary Questions . . .

Extraordinary Answers . . .

Extraordinary People.

The 2006 Morehead Alumni Forum
Schedule of Events

Friday, April 7

9:00 a.m.

Golf Tournament — The Preserve at Jordan Lake

Morehead Alumni will play this new Davis Love III course in the Habitat for Humanity charity event called “The House That Kenan-Flagler Built,” sponsored by the UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School.

12:00–6:00 p.m.

Forum Registration — Morehead Foundation’s Offices, East Wing, Ground Floor, Morehead Building

Sign in, pick up your name tag and registration folder, and have a “Check Day” cookie!

2:00–2:45 p.m.

Lecture by Dr. Peter Kaufman — Morehead Planetarium Star Theatre, Morehead Building

Please join Professor Kaufman (voted by Morehead Scholars and Alumni as their favorite current UNC professor) and his students during his regularly scheduled Friday-afternoon Religious Studies class, and get ready to have some fun stretching those scholarly muscles again! Don’t forget to bring your homework!

3:00–5:00 p.m.

Behind-the-scenes Tour of Kenan Stadium and the Dean E. Smith Center — bus will pick up and drop off in front of the Morehead Building

Don McCauley, UNC’s record-setting College Football Hall of Fame tailback, will take you “backstage” to see parts of Kenan and the “Dean Dome” that are not open to the general public — including the locker rooms!

5:30–6:00 p.m.

Orientation Meeting for all panel discussion moderators, panelists, and timekeepers — Morehead Faculty Lounge, West Wing, Second Floor, Morehead Building

Panel members: Hear some guiding words from Morehead Alumni Forum Founder Brad Ives ’86 and 2006 Forum Co-chair Pam Hartley ’93, before separating into your smaller groups for some strategy and planning time.

6:00–7:00 p.m.

Cocktail Reception — Genevieve B. Morehead Art Gallery (Rotunda), West Wing, Morehead Building

7:00–10:00 p.m.

“Class Reunion Dinner” — Morehead Banquet Hall, East Wing, Morehead Building

Find a seat at the tables designated for your class/decade and re-connect with old friends!

Keynote Speaker: North Carolina Sports Hall-of-Famer Anson Dorrance (UNC Class of 1974), Head Coach, UNC Varsity Women’s Soccer, will talk about leadership, motivation, and training champions.

At this dinner we will recognize classes who are celebrating special reunion years: the classes of 1955 through 1958, 1966, 1976, 1981, 1986, and 1996.

Saturday, April 8

7:00 a.m. Optional “Fun Run” — meet in front of the Morehead Building

Join former Forum Co-chair Chuck Ferguson '63 for a bit of “physical vigor” to start your day right!

8:00–9:30 a.m. Continental Breakfast in the Genevieve B. Morehead Art Gallery

9:30–10:30 a.m. Concurrent Discussion Sessions (attend one) — West Wing, Morehead Building

- The Globalization of Commerce — If the World Is Flat, Will We Just Have to Sail Faster?

Thomas Friedman’s recent book, The World is Flat, has the business world focusing on the good and bad of globalization. With every country trying to catch up with every other country, don’t you wonder where the race is going? This group of globe-trotters will dig for some answers . . . if they can just fight through their jet lag!

- Moderator: Robyn Hadley '85, independent consultant and the first African-American woman from the state of North Carolina to win the Rhodes Scholarship
- Panelists: Galahad Clark '98, seventh-generation shoemaker of the Clarks Shoes family and head of Terra Plana and United Nude brands
Steve Jones '74, dean, UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School; former CEO of one of Australia’s largest banks, Suncorp Metway
Don Kanak '75, former executive vice chairman/chief operating officer of AIG, Inc., now living and working in Hong Kong

- Today’s Medical Headlines — What Do I Need to Know?

Give it to us straight, Doc(s). There is a lot of medical news, but is it science? Come hear these medical experts separate the news from the noise in the medical field.

- Moderator: David Ballard '78, chief quality officer for the Baylor Health Care System
- Panelists: Greg Fitz '75, head of Internal Medicine at Southwestern Medical Center
Bruce Gellin '77, National Vaccine Program director
Mike Kastan '77, head of Hematology and Oncology at St. Jude Children’s Hospital
Tom Stair '71, head of Emergency Medicine at Brigham & Women’s Hospital

- Fight Club — Join Now or Disenroll? Civil Discourse in the 21st Century

We’ve all witnessed a few too many Jerry Springer moments in society. Where has civility gone?

With this great panel, attendees should expect . . .

- ❖ An open, collegial conversation in which panelists and audience members share insight, experiences, frustrations, and other reflections that shed light — not heat — on the state of civil discourse in America
- ❖ Interaction with a dynamic panel of individuals with experience in journalism, non-profit organizations, and local, state, and national politics

❖ Concrete ideas for fostering civil discourse on issues ranging from local school redistricting to the Iraq war, whether the forum is a family, the town council, The New York Times, or Congress

- Moderator: Hodding Carter III, world-famous journalist and UNC's new University Professor of Leadership and Public Policy
- Panelists: Jim Cooper '75, U.S. Congressman, Fifth District of Tennessee
Dana Burgess O'Donovan '95, consultant to nonprofits
Richard Vinroot '63, attorney, former mayor of Charlotte, and former N.C. gubernatorial candidate

• Healthy, Hale, and Whole — How Can We Raise Happy Children in These Challenging Times?

When we brought Junior home from the hospital, they forgot to give us the instruction manual. Was there supposed to be a care label on his back?

This panel will try to fill in the gaps. Come learn how to:

- ❖ Avoid the pitfalls of over-indulgence, over-management, and sporadic attentiveness.
- ❖ Build bonds and open communication channels that can help us navigate times of intense conflict.
- ❖ Manage your own parenting stress — be laid back or be laid out!

- Moderator: Landy Anderton '69, clinical and organizational psychologist
- Panelists: Scott Boatwright '89, at-home dad
Lucy Vanderberry Fountain '88, at-home mom
Michael Ülku-Steiner '92, director of the upper school at Durham Academy
Beril Ülku-Steiner, child psychologist and adjunct UNC professor

10:30–11:00 a.m. Coffee and conversation break

11:00 a.m.–12 noon Concurrent Discussion Sessions (attend one) — West Wing, Morehead Building

• The Evolution of the Student-Athlete — How Much Student, How Much Athlete?

Have Student-Athletes become Athlete-Students or is the “Show Me the Money” culture of professional sports making us overlook those who play purely for the love of the game? Come hear some of America’s leading sports experts discuss issues in athletics today.

- Moderator: John Swofford '71, commissioner, Atlantic Coast Conference
- Panelists: Jeff Beaver '67, executive director of the Charlotte Regional Sports Commission
Jenn Eames '95, nationally rated lacrosse official and executive committee member of the board of directors for U.S. Lacrosse
Rick Strunk '76, associate executive director of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association
Jim Tanner '90, top sports agent and attorney and one of three Morehead Alumni on Black Enterprise magazine's 2005 Hot List

- How Can We Innovate for the Public Good? Lessons from Those Who've Succeeded

Okay, so you told the Morehead interview panel that you wanted to save the World. Now you're planning to do it right after that next career move. Don't worry, there's still time. Come meet some Morehead Alumni who have found a way to make things better. Their stories should inspire us to chase a few of those World-saving ideas.

- Moderator: Brad Ives '86, managing director at Babson Capital and founder of the Morehead Alumni Forum
- Panelists: Tom Darden '76, CEO, Cherokee Investment Partners
Bill de Buys '72, conservationist and writer
Jonathan Reckford '84, CEO, Habitat for Humanity International

- King Kong vs. King Mackerel — Is There a Role for Artists in Today's Multi-Channel Existence?

Has commercialism taken over the Arts? Is art dead? What has happened to arts funding over the last decade? When a high school production of "Grease" elicits e-mail protests, how can we have an elevated discussion about the role of arts education in schools? Are audiences for the performing arts in a free-fall? Must you have Tom Cruise in your film to get a distribution deal? What role does an artist serve in today's multi-channel existence?

Join us for a spirited conversation about the State of the Arts. Help us answer the question of how the Arts can assert their importance in a fragmented culture.

- Moderator: Steve Maler '87, founder, Commonwealth Shakespeare Company and Vice President for Artistic Programming, Wang Center for the Performing Arts
- Panelists: Gill Holland '87, film producer
Jim Wann '70, Tony-nominated performer/author/composer of the Broadway hit Pump Boys and Dinettes, Diamond Studs, and King Mackerel & the Blues are Running
Patricia Miller Wann, professional actress (Vanities Off-Broadway and Crimes of the Heart national tour), producer, managing director, and writer

- The Future of Technology — What's on the Horizon?

Remember when SPAM came in a can instead of your e-mail in-box? Well, it was just as frightening then. Come hear some of the top technologists from our Morehead Alumni as they discuss . . .

- ❖ Convergence — How will technology make your life easier?
- ❖ Security — How will technology make your life safer?
- ❖ Entertainment — How will technology make your life more fun?
- ❖ Community — How will technology bring people, information, and ideas together?
- Moderator: Steven Aldrich '91, general manager, new market development, Intuit

- Panelists: Robbie Bach '84, president, Entertainment and Devices Group/
chief Xbox officer, Microsoft Corporation
- Alec Hudnut '87, CEO, Evolution Robotics
- Mike Lunsford '90, executive vice president and president,
Access and Voice, EarthLink Inc.

12:00 noon–2:00 p.m. Lunch on your own on Franklin Street

2:00–3:30 p.m. Create an Extraordinary Program — The Morehead Program Today and Tomorrow
Morehead Banquet Hall

- Moderator: Chuck Lovelace '77, executive director, Morehead Foundation
- Panelists: Lucy Chatham, vice chairman, Morehead Foundation Board of Trustees; chairman, Morehead Scholarship Foundation Board of Directors
- Megan Mazzocchi, associate director and director of Alumni and Communications, Morehead Foundation
- Emily Oliver Few, director of Development, Morehead Foundation
- Available for Q&A: Alan Dickson, chairman, Morehead Foundation Board of Trustees
- Bob Cluett, Morehead trustee and founder of the Canadian Morehead Programme
- Tim Burnett '62, Morehead trustee
- Ken Thompson '72, Morehead trustee
- Russell Robinson, general counsel, Morehead Foundation
- James Dean '89, chairman, British Morehead Programme

3:30–7:00 p.m. Free Time in Chapel Hill

7:00–9:00 p.m. Cocktails and Dinner on the Terrace and in Alumni Hall at the George Watts Hill Alumni Center

Cross-generational seating — make an effort to meet new Moreheads from other classes and eras!

Keynote Speaker: Pulitzer Prize-winning author Taylor Branch '68 will talk about his 2,849-page civil-rights-era trilogy, which he completed in January with the publication of the third book, At Canaan's Edge: America in the King Years 1965–1968.

At this dinner we will recognize the Morehead Foundation Trustees who will retire from the board this summer (Alan T. Dickson, chairman, and Robert Cluett) as well as two who have retired in recent years (Frank B. Hanes and Jean Morehead Larkin).

9:00 p.m.–Midnight Morehead Alumni Dance in the Hill Ballroom at the Carolina Inn

Come kick up your heels, 'Heels! Our dance band, the Mixed Emotions, will play everything from the Temptations to Steely Dan to INXS. Here's your chance to dance the night away with your fellow Moreheads!

Sunday, April 9

8:00–9:30 a.m. Continental Breakfast in the Morehead Banquet Hall

9:30–11:00 a.m. First in the Nation — The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill — Morehead Banquet Hall

What's new at Carolina? Hear from University administrators, professors, and current Scholars about new initiatives, continuing traditions, and campus life today.

- Moderator: Bernadette Gray-Little, dean, College of Arts & Sciences and future provost of the University
- Available for Q&A: Tim Burnett '62, UNC Board of Trustees
Tony Waldrop '74, vice chancellor for Research and Economic Development
Student perspective:
James Allred '07, UNC student body president
Kate Harris '05, Rhodes Scholar and founder, SpaceTalk
Tom O'Keefe '06, Jason, Order of the Golden Fleece

11:00–11:30 a.m. Coffee and conversation break

11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Where Do We Find Ourselves? An Extraordinary Exchange of Ideas and Advice — Morehead Banquet Hall

How can we continue to make an impact and give back to the world at every stage of our lives? Are you just starting a career — or ready for a career change? Are you young and single — or into the grandparenting phase? Wherever you are, now is a great time to gather with your fellow Morehead Alumni to give and get advice about making the most of life's next steps.

- Moderator: Tom Morris '74, philosopher, public speaker, and author (new book this spring: If Harry Potter Ran General Electric: Leadership Wisdom from the World of Wizards)
- Panelists: Jerry Askew '76, senior vice president for Mission and Communications, St. Mary's Health System
Doug Farnsley '73, attorney and historic preservationist
Kim Barrett Kwok '86, writer and mom

12:30–1:00 p.m. Panoramic Photo Shoot — West Steps of the Morehead Building (facing McCorkle Place)

Morehead Alumnus/Panoramic Photographer Benjamin Porter '72 will preserve the weekend for us in beautiful black-and-white, using his antique panoramic camera.

1:00–2:30 p.m. "Mentoring Picnic" with current Morehead Scholars — McCorkle Place

Enjoy delicious North Carolina barbecue with Morehead Scholars and Alumni who are interested in your career or interests!

3:00 p.m. Golf Tee Times available at UNC Finley Golf Course