

2012 MOREHEAD-CAIN ALUMNI FORUM

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19

12:00–5:00 p.m.

Morehead-Cain Offices

Forum Registration

Sign in, pick up your registration packet, and enjoy some refreshments while you catch up with scholars and fellow alums!

2:00–2:45 p.m.

Morehead-Cain Offices
East Room

“Understanding What It Is to Do the Right Thing Because It Is Right”

a lecture by Morehead-Cain Alumni Distinguished Professor Geoffrey Sayre-McCord Much-beloved professor of philosophy Geoff Sayre-McCord has taught the rigors of moral theory and modern philosophy to thousands of UNC students and reached many thousands more through his books, Essays on Moral Realism and Hume: Moral Philosophy.

1:00–5:00 p.m.

Potential free time options

- 3:00 p.m. | Meet UNC Athletic Director Bubba Cunningham during a visit to the UNC Basketball Museum. Shuttle buses available to South Campus.
- 3:00 p.m. | Tour campus landmarks both new and old with Missy Julian-Fox, longtime director of the UNC Visitor's Center. Tour will start on the west steps of the Morehead Building.
- Explore Franklin Street shops and restaurants, including the Ackland Art Museum Store at the corner of Franklin and Columbia.

6:00–7:00 p.m.

The Carolina Inn
Old Well Room

Cocktail Reception

Mingle with your fellow alumni and a cadre of current scholars at the lovely Carolina Inn.

7:00–10:00 p.m.

The Carolina Inn
Hill Ballroom

Class Reunion Dinner

Find a seat at the table designated for your class and reconnect with old friends.

- Welcome remarks by Chancellor Holden Thorp
- Opening address by Jamie DeMent '01
- Entertainment by the southeast sensation Mipso, an Americana and bluegrass band featuring Jacob Sharp '13, Joseph Terrell '13, and Libby Rodenbough '14

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20

8:00-8:45 a.m.
Carolina Union Lobby

Registration

9:00-9:30 a.m.
Carolina Union
Great Hall

Welcome and Kick-off

Words of welcome from scholars Jacob Sharp '13 and Joseph Terrell '13, and executive director Chuck Lovelace '77.

9:30-10:30 a.m.
Carolina Union
Great Hall

SEVEN Talks, Round One

- Candice Woodcock Cody '05, second-year medical resident and a two-time contestant on the CBS hit Survivor
- John Callan '69, founder of the PostalVision 2020 conference and a longtime logistics specialist, is leading the charge to reform and restore the U.S. Postal Service
- Jim Copland '94, director of the Manhattan Institute's Center for Legal Policy and a quick-witted commentator on some of the more arcane corners of the American judicial system
- Wade Smith '60, legendary Raleigh defense lawyer with a ripped-from-the-headlines case history unrivaled by even the best seasons of Law & Order
- Timika Shafeek-Horton '90, associate general counsel at Duke Energy and all-'round regulatory virtuoso
- Frank Hill '78, director of the Institute for Public Trust and a staunch advocate for civility, action, and brains in civic life
- Lisa Abbott '92, organizing director for Kentuckians for the Commonwealth and a lifelong proponent of living as if your actions matter

10:30-11:00 a.m.

SEVEN Mixer

Grab a cup of coffee and make it your mission to meet some new Morehead-Cain friends!

11:00-12:15 p.m.
Carolina Union
See map for rooms

Breakout Discussions

From the future of higher education to the ethics of health care, join a group of your razor-sharp fellow alumni for a loosely guided brainstorm about some of the world's more pressing challenges.

12:15-1:45 p.m.
The Pit

BBQ by the Pit

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20
continued

1:45–2:45 p.m.
Carolina Union
Great Hall

SEVEN Talks, Round Two

- David Royle '78, executive vice president of Smithsonian Networks and former vice president of National Geographic Television
- Jim Tanner '90, partner at Williams & Connolly and agent to some of the biggest names in sports
- Julie Huffaker '91, official "Secret Weapon" of the On Your Feet leadership program, where she brings her anthropological and improvisational skills to bear on the business world
- Matt Heyd '92, director of Faith in Action at Trinity Wall Street, one of the country's most high-profile and civically active churches
- Peter McCullough '86, discoverer of worlds and founder of the XO Project, which operates robotic observatories all over the world
- Dave Bernath '89, executive vice president at Comedy Central and one of the funniest men ever to don a business suit
- Sallie Krawcheck '87, former Wall Street executive at the highest levels of CitiGroup and Bank of America, now a much-sought commentator on reform and regulation in the financial sector

2:45–6:00 p.m.

Free Time Suggestions

- 3:00–4:00 p.m. | Great Hall Morehead-Cain Matinee: Documentary Screening of "The Amish," produced by Callie Taintor Wiser '02
Join Callie Taintor Wiser '02 for a thirty-minute segment of the landmark PBS documentary and discover the complex challenges of documentary filmmaking during a post-screening Q&A.

Other ideas:

- Self-guided walking tours of campus
- Explore the North Carolina Botanical Gardens
- Shopping and strolling on Franklin Street
- Stock up on Carolina gear at Student Stores
- Visit the Ackland Art Museum
- Hold your own mini-reunion with Morehead-Cain classmates
- Rest!

6:00–7:00 p.m.
The Carolina Inn
Front Porch

Cocktail Reception

7:00–10:00 p.m.
The Carolina Inn
Hill Ballroom

Dinner

We'll be aiming for cross-generational seating, so make an effort to meet new Moreheads from other classes and eras!

Keynote Interview: Alan Murray '77, executive editor of the Wall Street Journal Online, will sit down with Peter Henry '91, dean of New York University's Stern School of Business, for insight into the world of economics and finance.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21

- 8:00-8:45 a.m.
Morehead-Cain Offices
East Room
- Review of the Foundation's Finances
with Morehead-Cain Executive Director Chuck Lovelace '77, Lucy Chatham and Keith Cowan
- "Money is not the sole object of all kinds of effort," wrote Uncle Mot. "But it is at least a measure of progress, and it has certain other very distinctive advantages." Come learn how we're doing.*
- 9:00-10:00 a.m.
Morehead-Cain Offices
East Room
- Scholar SEVEN Talks
A showcase of some of the fascinating, ambitious, and bizarre things our scholars are doing with their time on campus and during their summers across the world.
- Lauren-Kristine Pryzant '14, a junior from Houston, Texas, and graduate of the Texas Academy of Leadership in the Humanities
 - George Ramsay '14, a junior from Raleigh, North Carolina, and graduate of Enloe High School
 - Adam Jutha '13, a senior from Thornhill, Ontario, and graduate of Upper Canada College
 - Emily Zuehlke '13, a senior from Waxhaw, North Carolina, and graduate of Charlotte Latin School
 - Meg VanDeusen '14, a junior from Baltimore, Maryland, and graduate of Roland Park Country School
 - Nayab Khan '13, a senior from Missouri City, Texas, and graduate of Phillips Academy
 - Hudson Vincent '13, a senior from Atlanta, Georgia, and graduate of the Lovett School
- 10:00-10:45 a.m.
Morehead-Cain Open Mic
In two or three minutes, share the experiences that shifted your outlook, opened a new opportunity, or otherwise changed your life. We'll keep the pace moving so everyone has a chance to share!
- 10:45-11:00 a.m.
Break
- 11:00-11:45 a.m.
Kate Harris '05 on finding inspiration while biking the Silk Road
- 11:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m.
Morehead-Cain Offices
East Room
- Tom Morris '74
Enjoy the timeless wisdom of our very own Morehead-Cain philosopher-in-residence.
- 12:30 p.m.
McCorkle Place
- Lunch on the Lawn
Bid farewell to friends old and new, and make plans to meet right back here in three years!