Story:

Rose and Daisy's plight was discovered by the owner's landlord who was investigating a water leak in the home. Rose, an 8 year old Havanese, and Daisy, an eleven year old Bichon, were taken from their owner who was charged with cruelty. They had not been groomed in 18 months. They were confined to a room and not taken outside to go to the bathroom. The room had wall to wall carpeting which was soaked with urine and feces as were their coats which were matted to the skin. Their nails were almost 2 inches long. The groomer said it was the worst case of neglect she'd ever seen. Their teeth and gums were so horrendous it's a wonder they could eat. They were much happier after a dentistry which included numerous extractions.

Rose and Daisy were amazingly resilient during their custody. Every morning when I entered the kennel Rose greeted me with a woo, woo, woo and then ran in happy circles waiting to go on her walk. Daisy was more sedate, but still clearly enjoyed going on walks.

After a lengthy court process the owner surrendered the dogs. They were adopted by a shelter volunteer and her family. I think it's obvious from the pictures that they are much loved and very happy!

Looking for Her Forever Home...

"SHEERA"

SPAYED FEMALE-Pit Bull Mix. Blue fawn with beautiful faint golden brindle. Shorthair.

Medium size, Approx 40 pounds, 8 years

Sheera spent the last year living with her owner, both homeless, in a car. During the height of a winter blizzard, Sheera's owner took her to a local police department and surrendered her. For now, Sheera is living in a local shelter. It was rough for her at first, scary, and overwhelming, but she has wormed her way up into everyone's hearts. There is no hand that she can't push her soft nose under. Sheera's tail wags non-stop as soon as she sees someone or if anyone even looks at her. Cover her up in her blanket and she can't hide her wagging tail. She's a typical pitty who loves to snuggle in blankets. Sheera gets short spurts of puppyhood. She is spotless in her kennel and teases to go out. She's a great walker and hardly pulls (unless a cat crosses her path though... she doesn't care for them). Sheera has some arthritis, so short walks are better and the cold affects her, but she's happy just taking any walk, then settling in for a nap. She also loves to go for car rides. Sheera would prefer to be the only dog, but may be able to get attached to a new canine friend if the personalities match.

With the assistance of the MVMA Charities, Inc. and its Stray Animal Program, Sheera has undergone ACL surgery and is expected to regain the spring in her step.

If you are interested in spending many happy years with Sheera, please contact her Shelter at 508.699.0128.
