

MMGMA Overview

The Minnesota Medical Group Management Association (MMGMA) is dedicated to supporting medical practices in improving the health status of the community and their patients. This is accomplished by promoting and enhancing networking, knowledge and skills necessary to thrive in the healthcare arena. In addition, MMGMA advocates with the legislative and regulatory bodies to advance the concept of group practice within the healthcare delivery system.

Mission & Vision

MMGMA serves medical practice executives and their organizations, further enabling them to recognize and improve the health status of the community of patients they serve by:

- Promoting and delivering the physician/administrative team approach to health care and medical group management
- Enhancing members' professional roles, knowledge and skills
- Building and providing a repository of data, process and organization design tools
- Advocating with the legislative and regulatory bodies to advance the concept of group practice with the health delivery system

Members

MMGMA has nearly 500 members that perform managerial duties involving multiple areas or administrative tasks involving a single area, or provides patient care and performs significant managerial or administrative tasks. Of these members, 200 are affiliate members that provide products or services purchased by MMGMA members including such services as management consulting, finance, insurance, etc.

Education

In addition to the relevant topics featured at the Winter and Summer Conferences, The University of St. Thomas, in partnership with MMGMA, has developed the Certificate in Advanced Health Care Management. Focused on significant and emerging issues in the health care industry, this certificate will help your organizations prepare for the future of health care with a series of monthly, one-day advanced programs. Programs may be taken individually or as part of the series.
