

KEVIN MALLOY

Kevin Malloy has served as president of Trench Shoring Company since 1999. He was previously the company's general manager from 1993-1999. The company has corporate offices in Los Angeles, Calif., as well as offices in Corona, Moorpark, Banning, San Diego, Bakersfield, Fullerton and Lake Forest (all of Calif.) and Las Vegas, Nev.

In 1941, Emmett J. Malloy started his Inglewood, Calif. company doing the "tough, little jobs too small for the larger contracting companies to handle. Through his dedication to quality work and service, Emmett J. Malloy-General Engineering Contractors grew to be a leader in the southern California construction industry. The tradition continued in 1963 when his son, Tom, began Malloy Equipment Rentals, which continues today as Trench Shoring Company. Started in 1973, Trench Shoring Company provides the construction industry with shoring equipment and service from its eight locations in Calif. and one in Las Vegas, Nev.

Malloy is a member of the Associated General Contractors of America (California, San Diego and Nevada); the National Utility Contractors Association; the Engineering Contractors Association; the Southern California Contractors Association; the United Contractors Association; and the Ventura County Contractors Association. He received a bachelor of science-finance degree from the University of San Francisco.
