

Executive Bio

Steve Brown

Vice President – Operations & Cyber Intelligence

Steve Brown is the Vice President of Operations and Cyber Intelligence Center in the Global Cyber Security organization at HP. He is responsible for all aspects of a 'Defense in Depth' organization – Cyber Defense Center, security engineering, threat remediation, vulnerability management, pen testing, operational engineering, investigations & forensics, and cyber intelligence – functions that must work seamlessly to protect HP from cyber threats.

A seasoned information security executive, Steve has over 33 years of industry and military experience. Prior to HP, he was Senior Vice President of Information Security Threat Management and Enterprise Information Security Operations at Wells Fargo. He started his career in the US Navy, where he spent 20 years in technical and leadership positions in Information Warfare, Signals Intelligence and Network Operations.

Steve sits on the Board of Directors for Information Technology Information Sharing and Analysis Center (IT-ISAC). He served as co-chair of the Minnesota CSO Summit and was a member of the Board of Directors of the Financial Services, Information Sharing Analysis Center (FS-ISAC).

Steve has a BS in Information Management from University of Maryland and an Executive MBA from University of Michigan.
