Multinational Association of Supportive Care in Cancer (MASCC)

The Multinational Association of Supportive Care in Cancer (MASCC) is an international, multidisciplinary organization with members from over 60 countries across five continents. Founded in 1990, MASCC is dedicated to research and education in all areas of supportive cancer care, regardless of the stage of the disease. This includes the prevention and management of physical and psychological symptoms and side effects across the continuum of the cancer experience, from diagnosis through treatment to post-treatment care. It also encompasses rehabilitation, secondary cancer prevention, survivorship, and end-of-life care. In 1998, MASCC joined forces with the International Society of Oral Oncology (ISOO), an organization that addresses complications arising in oral tissues secondary to cancer and its treatment. MASCC/ISOO aims to promote professional expertise in supportive care through research and the scientific exchange of ideas. Members include physicians, nurses, dentists, dental hygienists, pharmacists, social workers, dieticians, outcomes specialists, psychologists, statisticians, infectious disease specialists, educators, representatives from industry and non-profit sectors, and others interested in supportive care.
