For 50 years the WFCA has been the flooring industry's only unbiased source of information and advancement. We've taken that to the next level by launching your University.

This 3-day camp takes your best sales representatives and turns them into true consultants. There is no product knowledge and no hidden agendas - we leave that to everyone else.

We operate off one principal-you're either 'ripe and rotten' or 'green and growing.' Learning never stops because our members won't let it. Take advantage of this ongoing, ever changing, educational opportunity, and take your sales team to the next level.
