Recognizing the national & local shortage of Family Practice physicians, Oregon Osteopathic leaders felt the need to reactivate the Oregon chapter of the American College of Osteopathic Physicians (ACOFP). We are proud to announce the inaugural conference of the new Oregon State Society of ACOFP.

ACOFP works to promote excellence in osteopathic family medicine through quality education, visionary leadership, and responsible advocacy.

Osteopathic Physicians & Surgeons of Oregon (OPSO) is an affiliate of the American Osteopathic Association. OPSO promotes the Osteopathic profession with CME programs, Osteopathic awareness, undergraduate education, advocacy regarding issues facing the Osteopathic community, and representation on state agencies and boards.

Opening in 2011, COMP-Northwest is the first new medical school in Oregon in more than 100 years. COMP-Northwest is an expansion site of COMP (College of Osteopathic Medicine of the Pacific), which is Western University of Health Sciences’ medical school in Pomona, California.

COMP-Northwest is educating the next generation of physicians to become technically competent, culturally sensitive, professional, and compassionate lifelong learners.
Saturday, September 27, 2014

8:00-10:00am  The Most Current Diabetes Update
Eden Miller, DO

10:00am-12:00pm  Common Uses of Ultrasound for the Family Practice Physician
Brion Benninger, MD

12:00-12:30pm  Break, lunch served

12:30-2:30pm  Medical Home Workshop: Practical Approaches to Advancing the Medical Home From Within Your Organization
Tim Gray, Sr, DO; TJ Gray, DO; Tom Gray, DO; and David Swartout, MBA
Mountain View Medical Center (Putting FAMILY in Family Medicine)

2:30-4:30pm  Osteopathic Manipulative Medicine in Family Practice
Cyndi Worden, DO

4:30-5:30pm  Connecting Physicians and Medical Students

5:30-7:00pm  Western University of Health Sciences Alumni Relations Reception
All are invited to enjoy

(Schedule subject to change)